The Sanctuary is owned and protected by the National Association of Audubon Societies.

You will see many beautiful and interesting birds, inluding the American and Snowy Egret; many specimens of Heron; the Ibis; Anhinga, Gallinules, and others too numerous to mention.

Migratory birds and wild fowl use Bird Island as a resting place on their trips South.

Floating Islands

Orange Lake is the only lake in the world with floating islands with trees growing on them.

These naturally formed Floating Islands vary in size from a few feet to several hundred feet, and in depth from three to ten feet. They are covered with subtropical plants, shrubs, grasses, vines, and some with trees as tall as twenty feet.

These islands are inhabited by many kinds of wild life native to Florida.

Ripley's "Believe It or Not" carried a picture of one of these islands. Did you see it?
